Marina Nikolaevna Prusakova, born in 1941.

In lon 1962 they returned to the USA. In March

1963 Prusakova petitioned for the return of Vmes-

those with their daughter are in the USSR for permanent residence.

KU MFA USSR/letter lo KU-USA-540058-24518 dated

? october 1963/reported that her application was rejected.

There is correspondence at the consular office of the embassy with Prusakova and Lee Oswald regarding her return to USSR. The last letter from Lee Oswald is dated

November 9 /text transmitted through close neighbors/.

It is not rejected why the American authorities can contact us with a request to familiarize yourself with what we have by correspondence.

the fact of the existence of such correspondence is the last known to those US authorities, since it was carried out by an official kidney

Teaching that there is nothing compromising in the correspondence

we are not there, apparently, as a last resort, we could do this go /from" the Nauvoo internal correspondence with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs/.

I will give instructions on this issue.

Radio and television, which all others stopped broadcasts and reports messages related to the murder

president, they are now increasingly referring to the fact that the killer apparently, the beat is associated "with extremely leftist elements."

We convey the text of Oswal's last letter
yes to the embassy on November 9 this year.
The letter is written in poor English
com and contains a number of unclear and incomprehensible for we are there. It's generally unclear why he drank sal to the embassy a letter with this content.
All this is somewhat reminiscent of a provocation.

aid I want to send you my personal tactics for your help.

I would also like to take this occasion to awareness
with things

the thoughtful and constructive letter which was delivered to me by Mr.

Mikoyan, and to say to you directly what I said to him at the lime.-

that I believe strong in the value of direct and private exchanges between you and me - in addition to the important business which of course goes on through official channels when ever these private exchanges can be used in the cause of peace.

Mrs. Johnson joins me in sending personal regards to you and Mrs. Khrushchey.

Document No. 16-1

Office at the Attorney (general

Washington, DC.

February 26, 1964

Dear Mr. Chairman,

As I explored to Ambassador Dobrynin the other day, the chief memorial to my brother will be a Library erected in his name in Boston, Massachusetts, near the scenes of his youthful days at Harvard College.

He chose the site for the Library before his death, and, indeed, expected to make the Library his personal headquarters after his Presidency.

The John F. Kennedy Library will serve a number of functions. It will be a Memorial to President Kennedy.

It will be a Museum, containing memorabilia of President Kennedy and his times for visitors, we hope, from all over the world. It will be an Archive, housing the papers and documents essential for the study of President Kennedy and his times; this too, we hope, will attract schoolchildren and students from all over the world. And it will be an Institute, designed to carry forward one of the major themes of my brother's life -- his effect to bring together the world of scholarship and the world of action, the world of ideas and the world of power.

One partial feature of the Library is to be an oral history program.

As you know, documents by themselves do not reflect the full historical reality of a situation (and this is partial so in this modern age where the typewriter multiplies the number of documents and the telephone reduces their importance).

For this reason, we are organizing a program of tape-recorded interviews. The object of the program is to rescue and record material which would otherwise not be put down on paper and would in consequence be forever lost to the future historian.

This program is already under way in Washington; but we feel that it would be complete if it were concluded only to the United States.

We want to give full representation to all significant persons and views; and, since very little concerned President Kennedy more than world peace and our relations with your great country, we regard you, Mr. Chairman, as an indifferent witness to his policy and hopes. I am therefore writing to ask where you would consider taking part in this effort. The modalities could be arranged to suit your convenience - the choice of an interviewer (I had thought, for example, of Mr. Edward R. Murrow, with those independent and courageous work on American television I am sure you are familiar, or Ambassador Thompson, or very possibly you may prefer a Soviet citizen); the time; the place; and so on. I would hope that you would be willing to give your impressions of President Kennedy, his policies, his achievements, his mistakes, his failures, with complete candor. It would enrich future history immeasurably to have on record your views of the Vienna meeting, the Berlin crisis, the Cuban crisis, the test-ban negotiations and others episodes of the last three years as well as your estimate of the direction in which world affairs were moving and what might have happened if President Kennedy had lived.

Obviously much of the material recorded in the oral history program - and this might be partial so in your case, if you choose to participate - will be too confidential for immediate disclosure. Each participant in the program therefore has absolute control over access to his interview and can lay down any stipulations he wishes, such as, for example, sealing the tapé entirely for any period he may desire. I want to give you my most categorical personal insurance that your interview, if you decide to participate, will be absolutely secure. No one will have access to it - wheat scholars, government officials, congress committees, newspapermen, members of the Kennedy family - except under whatever conditions you may wish to lay down. You have my personal word on that.

The purpose of the Library is to accumulate historical materials not for this generation but for our posterity. I have no doubt that historians of the future, American or Soviet or any other nation, will stand incalculably in your debt if you would add your own testimony to this body of collections of President Kennedy and his times.
